

Student Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Resources

General Resources

Graduate Student Union \(GTFF 3544\) – All graduate students are backed by the graduate student union, regardless of whether they pay dues or not. They provide the graduate student health insurance and mediate issues between students and the university or faculty. Excellent place to ask for specific resources.

Office of Investigations and Civil Rights Compliance – This office can provide support, resources, and legal assistance in cases of harassment, discrimination, or violence based on race, religion, age, sex, gender, or sexuality. Includes anonymous reporting methods. Located at 677 E. 12th Ave., Suite 452.

Title IX office – Provides support and resources in cases of sexual violence or harassment and discrimination based on sex or gender. Located at 677 E. 12th Ave., Suite 452

Center for Multicultural Academic Excellence – Center that focuses on diversity and inclusion for all historically underrepresented and underserved populations. Great place to look for additional organizations, events, scholarships, and outreach opportunities.

Mental Health

UO Counseling Services – based in the UO Health Center. Provides many services beyond therapy and psychiatry including gender support services (group therapy, referrals, providers, and vocal training) and black student services (weekly community tables, joy sessions, and specialist providers).

Food Security

Here is a link to food security resources on campus that are detailed further below.

Student food pantry – run by the UO Episcopal Campus Ministry, this is a secular resource aimed at providing students with food staples. Students are encouraged to take items based on the number of folks in their household (including spouses and children). Every Wednesday and Thursday from 4-6pm at the Grace Lutheran Church at 710 E 17th Street.

Produce drops – The Student Sustainability Center along with Food for Lane County distributes fresh local produce at the EMU amphitheater every Tuesday from 2:45pm until they run out. Not available during the summer term.

Ducks Feeding Ducks – you can transfer $10 to your student account for use at an on-campus food vendor that accepts Duck Bucks. Disclaimer: this service has become limited in recent terms due to a lack of donations.

Leftover Textover – Also run by the Student Sustainability Center, this service sends texts when a catered event is over and there are leftovers available. They send a text 15 minutes before the food is available, and you have an additional 15-minute window to grab the food. Be sure to bring your own container!

Alluvium free Sunday market – another secular food security program put on by a church. Alluvium provides warm food, groceries, clothes, supplies, music, and more. No requirements for receiving services. No questions asked. 810 W 3rd Ave.
